Nicole Fuller from Baltimore Sun wrote a great article on November 29, 2009, compiling Chesapeake Science Point Public Charter School's accomplishments since the beginning of this school year.

Ms. Fuller mentioned the Mathalon, the AmericanMathChallenge and the SchoolDigger news about CSP. Ms. Fuller also indicated the donations CSP received from Lockheed Martin and Anne Arundel Community College towards its high school expansion.

Chesapeake Science Point Public Charter School community is glad to see that such critical accomplishments on behalf of Anne Arundel County and the state of Maryland were captured and recognized by Baltimore Sun and Nicole Fuller.

Many thanks to Baltimore Sun and Nicole Fuller for such a responsible and professional attitude...
